TEXAS CO-OP POWER

BYLAW EXCERPTS

ARTICLE II – MEETINGS

SECTION 1. ANNUAL MEETINGS. The Annual Meeting of Members shall be held at such time during each month of October as the Board of Directors may direct and such meeting shall be held at Comanche, Texas, unless otherwise specified by the membership at the Annual Meeting, in which case, the next succeeding Annual Meeting shall be held any place within the territorial service area served by the Cooperative, as may be decided by the membership, for the purpose of electing directors, passing upon reports of the previous fiscal year and transacting such other business as may come before the meeting.

If election of directors should not be held upon the day designated or determined for annual meeting, or before adjournment thereof, then the Board of Directors shall cause such election to be held at a special meeting of the members within sixty (60) days thereafter. Failure to hold an annual meeting at the designated time or any irregularity in the holding thereof shall not work a forfeiture or dissolution of the Cooperative and shall not void matters taken up and disposed of at such meeting; however, such matters are voidable upon a reasonable showing of resultant harm to any member.

SECTION 2. SPECIAL MEETINGS. Special meetings of the members may be called by the President, by the Board of Directors, or by a majority thereof, by a petition signed by not less than one-tenth (1/10) of all members or such other officers or persons as may be provided in the Articles of Incorporation or Bylaws, and it shall thereupon be the duty of the Secretary to cause notice of such meeting to be given as hereinafter provided. Special meetings of the members may be held at any place within the territorial area served by the Cooperative, as shall be specified in the notice of the special meeting.

Anything herein to the contrary notwithstanding, should circumstances transpire so that an insufficient number of Board members remain to call a special meeting, then and in that event a special meeting can be called by either the attorney for the Cooperative or by the chief financial officer of the Cooperative, with the same notice provisions as those provided for any special meeting.

SECTION 3. NOTICE OF MEMBERS' MEETING. Written or printed notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered not less than ten (10) days nor more than thirty (30) days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the Secretary, or by the persons calling the meeting, to each member. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail, addressed to the member at his, her or its address as same appears on the records of the Cooperative, with postage thereon prepaid. The failure of any member to receive notice of an annual or special meeting of the members shall not invalidate any action which may be taken by the members at any such meeting.

SECTION 4. QUORUM. At least one hundred fifty (150) of the members present in person shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings. If less than a quorum is present at any meeting, a majority of those present may adjourn the meeting from time to time without further notice.

SECTION 5. VOTING. For the purpose of voting, each member of the Cooperative shall be entitled to one (1) vote, upon each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of the members. At all meetings of the members at which a quorum is present, all questions shall be decided by a vote of a majority of the members voting thereon in person, except as otherwise provided by law, the Articles of Incorporation of the Cooperative, or these Bylaws. In case of a joint membership, either the husband or wife may vote, but only one may vote.

(a) No person or entity shall have the right to vote at any meeting unless such person or entity is then a member and is paying at least a minimum bill.

(b) Every person entitled to vote or execute consents may do so either in person or by mail if authorized by Board of Directors.

(c) Ballots may be received from members voting in person or by mail if authorized by the Board of Directors.

(d) At the annual meeting of the membership, the President, with the approval of the membership, shall appoint three (3) persons to serve as election judges, who shall be competent and trustworthy members of this Cooperative, but not an officer or director thereof, who shall be charged with the duty of conducting the election of directors and certifying the results thereof, and who shall be responsible for the conduct of the election and the preservation of the ballots.

The election judges so appointed shall have the authority to appoint such persons as they may deem necessary for the purpose of counting the ballots.

All ballots shall be placed and stored in a substantial metal box, securely locked, and shall remain in the custody of said election judges until said ballot box shall be ordered to be emptied by the Board of Directors. Should no contest of the election and no question as to its validity be raised within sixty (60) days from the date of the election, then the election judges shall turn said ballot box over to the Board of Directors and the Board of Directors shall cause said ballot box to be emptied and its contents destroyed.

SECTION 6. NO PROXIES. Members shall vote only in person or by mail-in ballot if authorized by the Board of Directors at the Annual Meeting. No proxy voting shall be allowed.

NOMINATIONS FOR DIRECTORS

District meetings for nominating candidates for directors were held as follows:

The meeting for District 1 was held at the Comanche Junior High School lunchroom, August 11. A quorum was present, and members nominated Randy Denning.

The meeting for District 7 was held at the Gunsight Baptist Church in Gunsight, August 10. A quorum was present, and members nominated Phil Taylor.

Nominations may be made from the floor at the annual membership meeting October 10.

ABOUT YOUR NOMINEES

RANDY DENNING

After 26 years working in the distribution and transmission phases of the electric industry, Randy Denning is now involved in a farming and ranching operation in Gustine. He also provides cattle hauling, working and catch services for area ranchers. Denning has been married to Pat for 33 years. She is a kindergarten teacher at Comanche Independent School District. They have a son, Randall, who is a lineman for Hamilton County Electric Cooperative. Denning has completed all the courses required to receive his Credentialed Cooperative Director certificate.

DISTRICT 7

PHIL TAYLOR

Phil Taylor serves as the Comanche EC board vice chairman. Taylor lives 12 miles southeast of Breckenridge near Necessity and is employed as general manager of the Stephens Regional Special Utility District. He continues to work the land his great-grandfather obtained by patent in 1876 from the state of Texas, and the land his grandmother's family purchased in 1883. Taylor still has a 32-volt generator his grandfather used to supply electricity to the family farmhouse before the Rural Electric Administration was formed. The Taylor family has long supported and believed in the co-op way of doing business.

Membership Matters

MESSAGE FROM GENERAL MANAGER ALAN LESLEY

OCTOBER IS NATIONAL COOPERATIVE MONTH, the time of year to celebrate what the benefits of cooperative membership truly mean.

You could be a member of many institutions—a gym, a 4-H club, church, or civic organization—the list goes on and on. But being a member of a co-op is different.

When you are a member of a co-op, you are also an owner. When you signed up to be a member of Comanche Electric Cooperative, you “bought” a stake in our business; and just like any stakeholder, you are offered the benefits of membership.

At our upcoming annual meeting, scheduled for October 10, you have an opportunity to make your voice heard. As a member, you have a say in electing the directors who democratically represent the membership on the co-op’s board. You get to register your opinion on local, state and national policy issues that your electric cooperative supports or opposes. You can even help determine how the co-op’s margins are redistributed.

Also, you receive capital credits whenever the board of directors decides it makes financial sense. Our bottom line is providing you with safe, reliable and affordable electricity, which demands that we think about expenses, overhead and other aspects of daily business. But when we have a little left over, we send it right back to you. Just this month, you should have received your share of our 2014 capital credits allocation.

Combined with this year’s allocation of $712,675, the total five-year disbursement in capital credits to our members exceeds $3 million. Whether we return capital credits to you in the form of a bill credit or a check, you have a say in where that money goes. Returning capital credits to you is another major part of why being a co-op member matters.

As your local electric co-op, we have the privilege of being a vital part of the surrounding communities. When we think about membership, we think about all of the ways we can give back to you, our members.

Capital credits were disbursed to members
this month.

Health Fair

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE membership of CECA is preceded by a health fair, 9–10 a.m. This year’s health fair features many returning health care businesses, plus some new ones. Don’t miss this wonderful opportunity to learn more about your health.

Children’s Activities Abound at Co-op Event

COME TO CECA’S ANNUAL MEETING and fish fry October 10 and join the fun. Ashley Griffin from Ashley’s Twist and Paint does face painting and balloon artistry. Ashley joined the CECA Annual Meeting team in 2014, entertaining our younger guests. Those who visited her last year will certainly want to return, and those who missed it will surely want to meet her!

Local Students Go to Washington, DC

ON JUNE 10, MADISON HAGOOD AND RYLIE MCGINNIS traveled to Washington, D.C., as a part of the Government-in-Action Youth Tour, sponsored by CECA. Madison and Riley joined about 1,700 other students from electric cooperatives across the nation on the all-expense-paid educational trip.

To win the trip, the students competed by writing an essay on the topic, "Creative Methods For Energy Conservation." They then presented their essays in the form of a speech in front of a panel of judges. Madison, a senior, is the daughter of Brent and Leann Hagood of Comanche. Rylie, a junior, is the daughter of Traci Pettit and Kevin McGinnis of Comanche.

Madison and Rylie began their trip in Austin, where they joined more than 100 other students from across Texas. After arriving at our nation's capital, students learned about electric cooperatives, American history and U.S. government. They participated in National Youth Day, visited with their elected officials in the House and Senate, and explored the sights in Washington, D.C. A few of the many places the students saw were the Washington National Cathedral, Arlington National Cemetery, the Lincoln and Vietnam Veterans memorials, Mount Vernon, Union Station and several of the Smithsonian Institution's museums. They also had time to shop, dance and go on a boat cruise.

Adam Tally, a linemen for CECA, and his wife, Amanda, accompanied the students on their 10-day adventure as chaperones.

If you are a sophomore, junior or senior attending one of the 25 high schools within CECA's service area, then you, too, could win this trip of a lifetime.
